

Samuel Cohen, Jr., Prominent Bangor Business Man, Dies

Samuel Cohen, Jr., 51, died April 6. Born in Bangor, the son of Simon and Fannie Cohen, he had lived here all his life, attending the Bangor public schools and graduating from the University of Maine law school. He was a member of the Maine, Penobscot county and American Bar Associations, as well as the Bangor lodge of Elks and a past master of B'nai B'rith. For the past several years he was active in the real estate and insurance business. Surviving him are his wife, Susan; his daughter, Mrs. Joyce Ollove; his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Broder and Mrs. Anna Shafmaster of Bangor; two brothers, Robert of Houlton and Phillip of Presque Isle. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Died: April 6, 1945